Lattice Panel Functions

- Lattice functions have a panel function which controls what happens inside each panel of the plot.

- The lattice package comes with default panel functions, but you can supply your own if you want to customize what happens in each panel

- Panel functions receive the x/y coordinates of the data points in their panel (along with any optional arguments)